Call for Proposals

We advertise a call for a two year post doc position at the Department of Mathematics of the University of Milano Bicocca. The candidate we are looking for is a young scientist with a leading position in her/his field of expertise, who can give a strong impulse to researches presently carried on in the Department or help to open new ones. Applications from any area of Mathematics are encouraged. The selection will be done on the basis of the interest of the proposal and of the previous achievements of the candidate.

The gross salary will be in the range from 33.000 to 38.000 euro per year, and will be a matter of negotiation. No teaching duties are required to the applicant, except for a PhD course (of approximately 40 hours) per year. The renewal of the grant for the second year is subordinate to the approval of the first year activities by a committee to be appointed by the Department.

Interested researchers should send by e-mail their CV, together with a research statement to the secretary of the Director, (iside.marconi@unimib.it), before November 30, 2012. Also, they should arrange for two reference letters to be sent to the same address still by November 30, 2012.

The proposals will be reviewed by a specially appointed committee in January 2013, and the call for the position will be issued by the Department at the beginning of February 2013. The grant is expected to start on September 1, 2013.
